DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 1-21 provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-21 of copending Application No. 09755992. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because Flowers discloses a surface acoustic wave device comprising a piezoelectric substrate; a conductive layer located over the piezoelectric substrate and a resistor, electrically connecting a portion of the conductive layer and piezoelectric layer, that forms a return path for static charge migrating from the piezoelectric substrate to the conductive layer. It would have been on having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a resistor or a resistive layer since both are structurally and functionally equivalent.

3. This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claim 1,8,15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ogawa (4381469).

Ogawa discloses in fig.1b-61 a surface acoustic wave device (1) form as a network comprising a piezoelectric substrate (4); a conductive layer (6) located over the piezoelectric substrate and a resistor (14), electrically connecting a portion of the conductive layer and piezoelectric layer, that forms a return path for static charge migrating from the piezoelectric substrate to the conductive layer.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 2-7, 9-14 and 16-21 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ogawa (4381469) in view of Este (4684841).

Ogawa substantial disclose in fig 11-61 the claim invention. However, Ogawa dose not show the resistor made of silicon.

Este discloses in fig1-2 a surface acoustic wave device comprising: a piezoelectric substrate (20), conduction electrodes (22) and a resistor made of silicon (26) for the purpose of improving adhesion. The method is inherent. Therefore it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the saw device of Ogawa with the resistor of Este for the purpose of improving adhesion and facilitates production of the saw device without detracting from the performance of the saw device.
